President Message

Dear Jayceettes and Friends,

As our slogan Care to Aspire, Dare to Inspire (常關懷 • 敢行動) says, year 2015 is a caring and daring year with an attitude to aspire for, and inspire our members with, new value of personal development, leadership development, community affairs, international affairs, which not only echo well with JCI Vision and Mission, but also generate positive energy and sustainable solutions in the society.

With this vision, we showed our strong commitments to members' value in participation ("VIP") through the launch of "Jayceettes Miles", a brand new membership incentive program comprised of a fun-to-participate mile calculation scheme that enables full members and prospective members to learn and earn at the same time.

To maximize the value of our members and given their growing inclination to identify opportunities that are more closely related to career or business development, the First "Jayceettes Academy" was established in early 2015, offering a myriad of practical training opportunities and defined trainings as an attitude to inspire instead of merely an idea of being trained.

To empower more members to be active citizens of the locality, we went the extra mile in achieving the United Nations Millennium Development Goals by bringing together the mastermind of youngsters in formulating the active citizen framework. The "Hong Kong Young Social Entrepreneur Contest 2015", a new innovative flagship project, was held to provide the first opportunity to secondary school students in Hong Kong to address social issues and evaluate the impact by formulating social enterprise business models. In the meantime, courtesy visits were held to get in touch with those in need in the society and our community campaign "Hand in Hand, This's Ability" continued to address urgent social and economic problems.

2015 marked the 100th year of JCI Movement and we exemplified the influence of internationalism through the collaboration with JCI Manila in Golden Heart to help alleviate the problem of lack of medical treatment of cerebral palsy children in the Philippines, and raise public awareness of one of the most marginalized and yet most common childhood disabilities in developed and developing countries.

With concerted efforts across all spectrums, we have sailed ourselves into uncharted territories thus far with great success. The positive feedbacks from our members, partners and friends are the best testimony of our ever enterprising and daring spirit for a positive change. When there's a will, there's way. As my Chinese name "立言" suggests, I am pleased to deliver what had been promised, established new platforms and reinforced our foundation together with all my beloved area advisors and board mates throughout. With appreciation of the past and a constructive attitude to our future, I believe we have delivered a clear and consistent message of Care & Dare, a slogan and a positioning I set since 2013.

The red and white concept with board holding different items highlighted that Earth's Great Treasure Lies in Human Personality. Our greatness came from our uniqueness.

Past President Caroline Keung's calligraphy of 無盡藏 (Endless Treasure). JCI can be a treasure full of self-actualization opportunities. Those with the caring and enterprising attitude will benefit the most, as opportunities are not to be taken easily without giving.

The meeting with Under Secretary for Food and Health Professor Sophia Chan, former Jayceette, was a warm and inspiring dinner of achieving the achievable in a way that are most relevant to the current social needs of Hong Kong.

It is the time of year again when we have our anniversary. Old friends meet, achievements reviewed, promises made and new leaders elected. This time last year, I was busy preparing for election, so were all chapter presidents. Together with our board members, we have committed to the cause of serving the community. Years later when we look back, we will be proud of what we have done and the sweet memories that accompany.

This year is the 100th anniversary of the JC movement and I am glad to see outstanding projects held by different chapters. The projects “Hong Kong young Social Entrepreneur Contest” and “Care & Dare”, organized by JCI Hong Kong Jayceettes, remind us of the motto of JCI that “service to humanity is the best work of life” and are well received by the public. The work of this year’s board has definitely set a high bar, but I believe JCI Hong Kong Jayceettes will always strive for the better. This year is also the 65th anniversary of JCI Hong Kong. I would like to take this chance to thank JCI Hong Kong Jayceettes for your support of JCI Hong Kong. Congratulations to president elect and her board of directors. I wish JCI Hong Kong Jayceettes every success in the year to come.

Message from

National Assigned Executive Officer Senator Matthew Li

Time flies, it comes to the last quarter of the year. I can feel the passionate and team spirit among BOD of directors and all members of Hong Kong Jayceettes in the past 10 months under the great leadership of President Naomi.

JCI is an organization not only providing opportunities to youngsters to create positive change but also make sustainable impact to our community. I would like to share some points of view towards “the future of progress”.

When we think about the future, we hope for a future of progress. That progress can take one of two forms: horizontal / extensive progress or vertical /intensive progress.

Horizontal progress is easy to imagine because we already know what it looks like. Vertical progress is harder to imagine because it requires doing something nobody else has ever done. While this concept applies to organize JC projects, we can scale up the project size which benefit to more peoples or doing new things to create more impacts to the community.

I believe that Hong Kong Jayceettes did apply this mindset while project planning and execution. The satisfactory results in National Convention this year have proved that all. I encourage JCI Hong Kong Jayceettes to have innovative projects in the near future!

Continue the spirit! Let’s action with appreciation for the future !

Baby Senators 2012 President Winnie Yeung and 2013 President Pauline Lau Congratulations.

First Timer Corner:

The National Convention was eye opening and the Awards Presentation was certainly the highlight of the weekend. Fellow Jayceettes and JCI members, all donned in gowns and evening wear, were enthusiastically socializing and high spirited in anticipating the evening's results. I was happy, grateful and proud to share award moments with the rest of the chapter, as it was well-earned recognition for President Naomi and Jayceettes award winners' hard work this past year. Especially being a part of the Hong Kong Young Social Entrepreneur project that won one of the awards, I believe attending the National Convention can be a great motivation to propel forwards and pursue greater accomplishments for the coming year. Congratulations to the Chapter and to the Business Affairs team once again!

A Healthy-dosage of Self-Awareness for WOMEN

written by Editor Sunny Chan

'Health is not only physical,' Professor Sophia Chan, Under Secretary for Food and Health and formerly a Jayceette, greeted us with a broader definition on health, as she sat down for an interview with JCI Hong Kong Jayceettes. 'But there are also psychological and mental health which are equally important. Whether you are in a good mood or being anxious all the time accounts to how healthy you are.' So, how can modern professional women take care of their health through daily habits, lifestyle and diet?

Health Starts with the Mind

Professor Chan further enlightened us by pointing out that the key to stay healthy, in fact, starts with the mind. It is a sense of self-awareness that enables us to stay healthy. First, we have to acknowledge the fact that certain causes of poor health are unavoidable, such as air pollution, passive smoking, food with MGS, etc.

'Hong Kong women are generally not very aware of their own health conditions,' she said. 'And that is a pitiful phenomenon.' It is not until we become aware of health that we would start taking action to maintain good health.

Risk factors for poor health

Professor Chan then listed out FOUR risk factors which attributes to poor health among women. They are, namely, smoking, alcohol consumption, unhealthy diet, and a lack of sports and exercises. First, there is a worrying increase in female smoking. Second, most alcohol contains carcinogenic ingredients which pose threats to health. Third, the exceeding amount of salt, sugar and fat in daily diet gives rise to the number of women suffering from obesity and heart diseases. The fourth factor is insufficient physical exercises.

Tips for exercising

Apart from advising women to abstain from smoking and drinking, Professor Chan also provides the following tips for busy working women to engage in more physical exercises so as to stay in good shape:

1. When taking bus, get off one stop earlier and walk to the destination
2. When driving, park further to walk some distance
3. In the office, try stretching the legs by raising them under the desk

Incentives for promoting health

'Everyone needs incentives,' the Professor said thoughtfully. She reveals the government's incentive for establishing the Committee on Reduction of Salt and Sugar in Food which aims at meeting WHO's standards. 'By adjusting the formula of seasonings and drinks, we hope that would reduce people's daily intake of salt and sugar.'

As for her own incentive for promoting anti-smoking with undimmed passion throughout the years, Professor Chan emphasized on the benefits of knowing and sharing knowledge. For example, it would be too late to quit smoking only after suffering from diseases caused by smoking. Had the smoker known the consequences earlier, s/he would not have had to struggle so hard.

A message to potential smokers

'What many people don't know about smoking is,' the Professor stated clearly. 'It is more a physiological behavior than a habit. Once being hooked, it is hard to quit as the nicotine gives pleasure.' Therefore, quitting smoking is a progressive process made up by small steps.

Perhaps not only female smokers, but every woman needs to have a dosage of self-awareness, in order to stay healthy.

Jayceettes awarded the certificates upon completion of the 1.5 hour charity walk, an international awareness campaign with 70 countries participating for gynecological cancer.

JCIHK National President Senator Anthony Leung, National Executive Vice President Exo Zenith Lin, 15 Jayceettes supported the event, with JCIHK winning the bronze award of participation.

180% increase in the number of qualified trainers this year.

Around 20% of full members become qualified trainers.

More than 50% of trainers have more than two JCI official course qualifications.

Even Sister Chapter JCI Toyota supported Jayceettes Academy!

Many trainers gave us positive feedback towards Jayceettes Academy.

Sunny Chan from Hong Kong Jayceettes

The camp offered a lot of practical skills and tips which are useful in both the workplace and social interactions. The intensive programs also provided an excellent learning opportunity to be a good team player through various group activities, and to understand ourselves better as per the type of person we are and the best way to communicate with each type. It is a very enriching experience both practically and socially, and the handouts are informative and substantial as well. Thanks to this camp, I am equipped with more communication skills that are essential to my chairmanship in the June MFG.

Thank you so much for great arrangement and training.

Sarah from JCI East Kowloon

"Train the Trainer 3.0 Programme" has been the best training experience I have ever had! With Senator Joseph Ho as the Head Trainer, the camp was well designed and prepared. The training sessions, held by Head Trainer and other experienced trainers, were grounded in both theory and practice. These have made up a fabulous start for my training journey. Also, thanks to the Organizing Committee for the nice accommodation and catering arrangement. My compliments to Jayceettes!

Around 70 members from both chapters, with JCI Executive Vice President Natalie Viselli as Guest of Honor 2015 ASPAC was held between 11 to 14 June in Kota Kinabalu, Sabah, Malaysia. Together with 6 first-timers, 18 delegates of JCI Hong Kong Jayceettes participated in the opening ceremony, trainings, national parties, award ceremony, gala dinner, etc. We had meetings with all of our sister chapters and friendship pacts and many outstanding JCI leaders and delegates around the globe!

One highlight of the trip was the celebration of the 40th Anniversary of Sisterhood with JCI Yokohama during the ASPAC in Sabah. It is our honor to have invited JCI Executive Vice President Senator Natalie Viselli as Guest of Honor, along with National President Senator Anthony Leung and NOM Officers as our witness.

We had also exchanged souvenirs. We exchanged a piece of Chinese Calligraphy "結盟四十載，青商情永在" written by our 1990 President Senator Caroline Keung to celebrate our friendship along JCI Movement.

History Corner:

On 11 September 1975, JCI Hong Kong Jayceettes signed a sister chapter relationship with JCI Yokohama, upon the first meeting at JCI President's banquet in 1974. Over the past 40 years, two chapters had cooperated in numerous projects for youth education, environmental awareness and rescue relief through cultural exchange and project collaboration.

Let's hear what our first timers said about ASPAC.

Queenie Ng

ASPAC not only gave you the chance to meet lots of JC members from all over the world, it also strengthened the bond among Jayceettes and members from sister chapters. I hope to visit Sabah again and I look forward to the next ASPAC.

Vicki Chan

Besides, the JCI Award Ceremony I attended served as an ideal platform for me to know more different outstanding projects in Asia. In their projects, we can see what stakeholders overseas chapters focus on and the community issues that concerned them. For example, our sister chapter JCI Manila has a project which helps saving the sea.

Golden Heart Project

Collaborating with JCI Manila, the Golden Heart Project aims to raise awareness for children with Cerebral Palsy. With the kind support from our members, we had donated two wheelchairs to be used by Cerebral Palsy children to gain primary education and acquire job skills at the Special Education Centre opened in late August.

The Project Symposium was held at Manila Ocean Park on 28 July 2015, with over 300 audience including Cerebral Palsy children, their parents, JC members and top-notch doctors from different countries. President Naomi delivered her greeting message and shared the acupuncture treatment and possible development paths of Cerebral Palsy children with the audience upon interviewing a Registered Chinese Medicine Practitioner (HK) Dr. Arthur To in June 2015.

FACTS ABOUT CEREBRAL PALSY

Cerebral palsy (腦麻痺, CP) is a group of disorders that affect a person's ability to move and maintain balance and posture. 17 million people suffered from cerebral palsy, and 1 in 500 babies suffered from such disorder. There is no cure for CP, but early treatment can improve the lives of those who have the condition. Hence, the awareness of parents and the public are the key focus of the project collaboration, as it is always the parents who notice the symptoms.

In the Chinese society, most relied on traditional medical treatment such as acupuncture, which is more affordable but in Manila, western treatment are more commonly used due to a lack of expertise of Chinese traditional medical treatment. Upon interviewing Dr. Arthur To, a registered Chinese Medicine Practitioner working in The University of Hong Kong, there was almost a 10-year vacuum in CP research in Hong Kong and our efforts in Golden Heart was significant in raising awareness of one of the most common and yet marginalized child disorder, and brought hope to children suffering from CP.

During the four day summit program, delegates enjoyed many presentations ranging from global entrepreneurs to UN representatives of various offices such as the Secretary-General's Envoy on Youth, UN Foundation, UN Women, UN Millennium Campaign, and also met with JCI partners such as AIESEC and Kiwanis. Apart from active learning and discussion about the SDGs, some delegates also got

written by 2011 President Senator Winnie Tsang

We have all heard of the term "One belt, one road (一帶一路)", but how many of us know exactly what it represents and how is it relevant to us?

"One belt, one road", a development strategy started by the Chinese government in 2013, refers to the New Silk Road Economic Belt (一帶), which will link China with Europe through Central and Western Asia, and the 21st Century Maritime Silk Road (一路), which will connect China with Southeast Asian countries, Africa and Europe. The initiative calls for the integration of the region into a cohesive economic area through building infrastructure, increasing cultural exchanges and broadening trade. Many of the countries that are part of this are also members of the China-led Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB).

JCI Hong Kong Jayceettes was invited by The Liaison Office of the Central People's Government in the HKSAR (香港中聯辦) to join the Silk Road Expedition in Gansu, China (中國甘肅) from 9th to 15th June 2015 in exploring the New Silk Road Economic Belt. Together with 1989 President Connia and 1998 President Phyllis, I was thrilled to take part in this trip. There were totally 53 professional ladies from various NGOs participating, including entrepreneurs, solicitors, accountants, doctors and officers from large women NGOs. Dr. Rebecca Lee (李樂詩博士) was the Group Leader, Madam Liao Xun of The Liaison Office was the Advisor and Past President Connia was appointed as one of the Deputy Secretary General of the group. The purpose of this expedition would be to encourage communications between professional ladies in Hong Kong and Mainland China; an understanding of New Silk Road Economic Belt development strategy; to experience and to understand the Northwest of China in terms of culture, history and construction development.

Although the Silk Road starts from Xi'an (西安) and extends to Europe, our trip stayed within Gansu Province. From East to West, we had been to Lanzhou (蘭州), Wuwei (武威), Jinchang (金昌), Zhangye (張掖), Jiuquan (酒泉), Jiayuguan (嘉峪關) and Dunhuang (敦煌). We travelled through Gansu Province by coach and the scenery along the way was mainly the Loess Plateau (黃土高原), Gobi Desert (戈壁沙漠) and Qilian Mountains (祁連山). Tourist attractions we visited include part of Yellow River that runs through Lanzhou; the sculpture of Yellow River Mother; Leitai Tombs of Han Dynasty (雷台漢墓) where one of the funerary artifacts, the Bronze Galloping Horse was found, and which became the symbol of Wuwei; Rainbow Mountains (七彩丹霞); Jiayuguan Fort, the beginning of the Great Wall of China where it guarded the western boundary of Ming Dynasty; Mingsha Shan (鳴沙山); Crescent Lake (月牙泉); and Mogao Grottoes (莫高窟). One of the highlights would be to visit Jiuquan Satellite Launch Centre (酒泉衛星發射中心) which is not open to public. At the Launch Centre, not only we got to see the launch site and launch tower very closely, we also visited the quarter of the Chinese astronauts where they lived, had trainings, health checks as well as meeting up with The President and government officials of China just before the launch.

While I am fascinated by the history, culture and geographic features of our Motherland, I am most amazed to see the development of Gansu Province in terms of economy, technology and environment. Although Gansu is still considered to be one of the poorest provinces in China, we saw numerous infrastructure developments in this trip, including high-rise apartments, new international airport in Lanzhou comparable to the one in Hong Kong, roads and highways that goes all the way from China to Europe. Most of Gansu's economy is based on mining, extraction of minerals and oil fields. Jinchuan Group based in Jinchang is producing 90% of China's output of nickel, is the largest and 3rd largest nickel producer in Asia and in the world respectively. Tourism also contributed immensely to Gansu's overall economy. The Gansu government is doing extremely well in preserving the great history and protecting the historical sites by allowing only electric buses to operate in these sites. Gansu province is also rich in renewable energy resources, so we saw fields of Wind Farms as well as Solar Panels along the Silk Road. China, already a leader in almost all forms of renewable energy technologies, is likely to continue with its massive push to expand its renewable energy capacity base. More amazing is that China is actually turning desert into farm land! Apart from sustaining the living of the farmers, it also helps in maintaining agricultural production in the desert. China has been planting a "great wall of trees" in the Gobi Desert since 1978 to stop the advancement of the desert in the province and to lower the level of dust storm intensity in cities like Beijing. Countries like Australia and Africa are learning from China in this regards.

"Better to travel 10,000 miles than to read 10,000 books" (讀萬卷書不如行萬里路). The development of Gansu province is beyond my expectation. While China is taking every step in advancing its influence to the world in terms of economy, technology and environment, what are we doing in Hong Kong? How can Hong Kong take part in the One Belt, One Road strategy so to maintain its competitive edge over other major cities in China?

In the midst of SMC's 10th anniversary celebration, the committee members of SMC devoted themselves to offer each and every senior member a remarkable and unique year.

Also, we would like to promote a healthy and pleasant lifestyle to our senior members who are at a vivid stage of life, as it is especially vital to attain a rich and enjoyable living. In order to echo with this idea, the committee has established "Unleash Our Spirit - 綻放身心靈" as the theme of this year. Our theme logo appeared as a blooming flower, meaning everyone can unleash their spark and inspire people around.

Welcome to our Family!

Krystle Fong

I joined JCI Hong Kong Jayceettes quite accidentally through a friend at work. As a newbie of Jayceettes, I really had limited knowledge of the chapter besides the existence of a group of passionate girls with an active involvement in a variety of projects. Not much later I participated in an MFG and met many members who were all like my sisters. That was where I was inspired by their abilities and aspiration towards positive change in different aspects of life.

I believe Jayceettes is a great platform for continuous self improvement through project management. I look forward to participating in the JCI Movement by conducting more meaningful projects from today onwards!

Davina Wong

I have heard of TOYP for a long time, yet I didn't really pay attention to the organizer of this well-known award. Not until there was one chance I got the opportunity to attend orientation organized by Jayceettes early this year, I started to realize this long-history global organization is indeed very well structured with an inspiring vision. At first I was attracted by the interesting opportunities to organize different events and workshop for members. However, after participating in several projects, I met a lot of young professional working ladies who are passionate in serving the community. I am fascinated by this powerful belief and strong bonding between all JCI chapters in HK, not to mention other JCI chapters all around the global, you can imagine how powerful the positive impact we create to the world and the next generation. It's more blessed to give than receive, I truly believe by helping others, we help ourselves.

Kitty Leung

I am excited to have embarked on the JCI journey with all the Jayceettes since February this year. Tremendous opportunities are offered here for anyone to explore, learn and grow!

Appreciate the chance for being one of the organizing committee members of two Monthly Fellowship Gatherings in 2015, where I have met many talented girls with great mind! These are valuable and rewarding experiences. The passion and bonding among Jayceettes are 'infectious', I am hoping to meet every one of you along my cruising here in this big family.

Shirley Lai

This February, PP Winnie Yeung referred me and my best friend, Kitty to join Prospective Member Orientation. This was my first encounter with JCI Jayceettes. In the orientation, I was deeply impressed by strong bonding of members and committees, so I was determined to be part of the organization. After taking part in a few projects, I believe JCI will be a wonderful platform to expand my social circle, enrich my voluntary experience and sharpen my leadership skills.

Haze Wong

It was a precious experience to join JCI in my life. This is a good platform to explore the world and interest.

I learnt a lot from being an organising committee of Jayceettes BA project this year. Looking forward to create more unforgettable and meaningful experience with our passionate girls here.

Winnie Wong

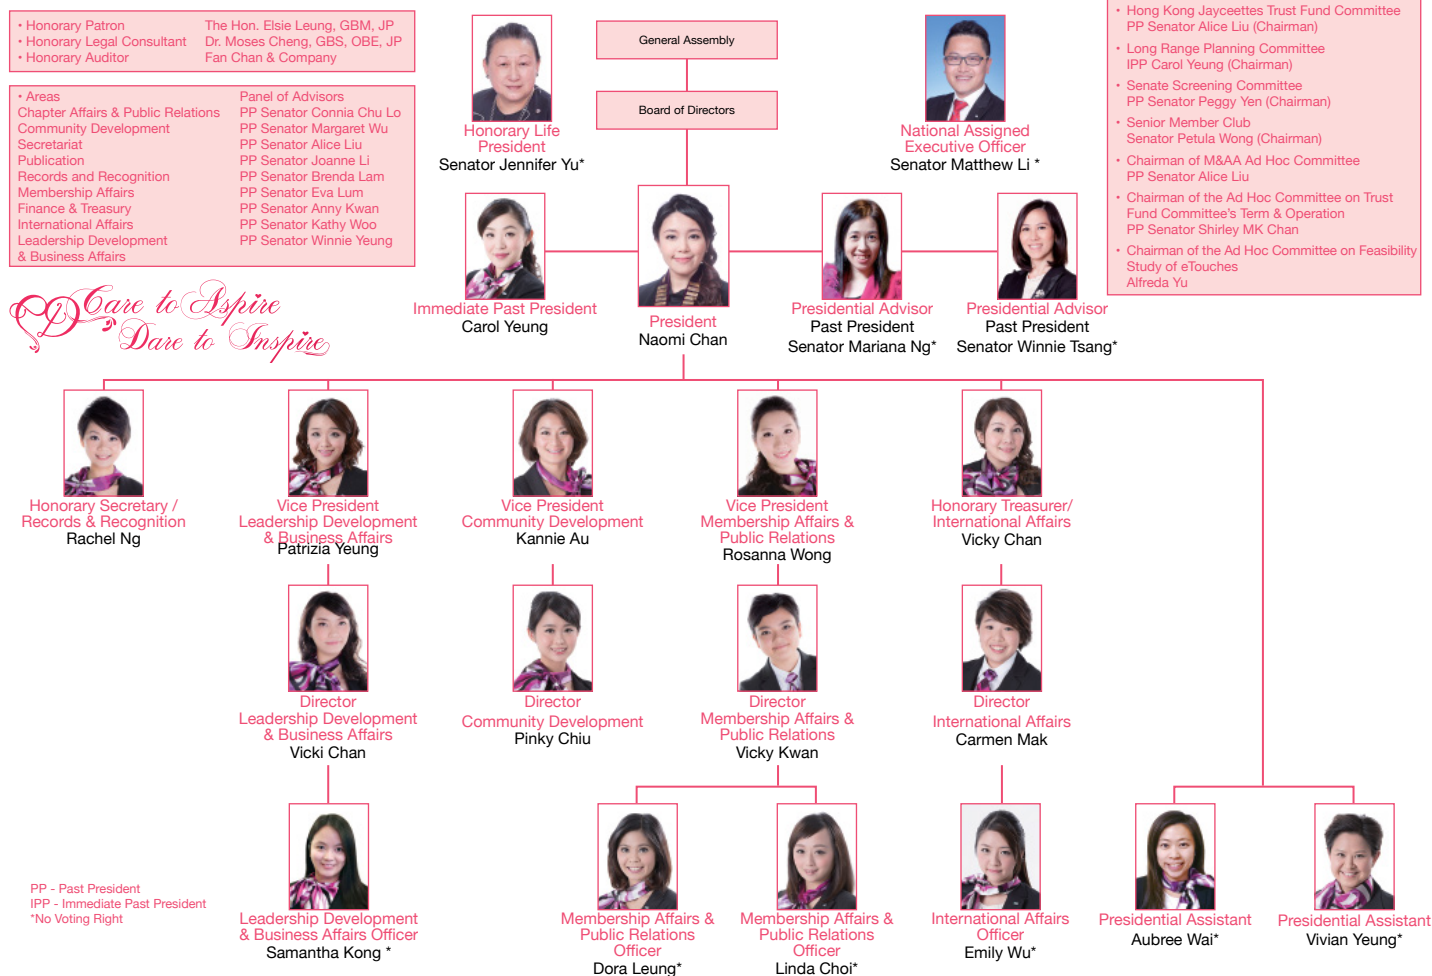

I joined Jayceettes with the curiosity in exploring what JCIHK and Jayceettes are and how members can benefit in joining them. With the half-year exploration journey with Jayceettes, through participating in the July member fellowship gathering & Flagship Project Hong Kong Young Social Entrepreneurs Contest 2015, learning the JC values and also meeting new friends,

I am impressed with how this environment motivates me to become a better person and contribute to the society.

I am glad to be the member of the Jayceettes family, let's work together and shine!

Jayceettes meeting Ten Outstanding Young Persons Awardees Dr. Emily HUNG and Dr. Eliza Cheung from Civic and Social Services Sector.

Issue 2 would not be possible without the collaboration of all board of directors and the editorial team including Emily Wu and Sunny Chan, advised by 2001 President Senator Joanne Li.
